Transatlantic Law Journal Welcomes Blerina Jasari to its Editorial Team

Washington, DC...Boyle & Jasari is pleased to announce that Blerina Jasari, co-founder and partner in the Washington, D.C. firm, has been appointed a member of the Editorial Team of the Transatlantic Law Journal. This new law journal is published by Publishers C.H. Beck in cooperation with DAJV, Deutsch-Amerikanische Juristen-Vereinigung e.V. (German-American Lawyers' Association).

The DAJV is an association of lawyers of all specializations interested in the U.S. and its legal system – in-house counsel, university professors, attorneys, leaders in public service as well as students, law clerks, postgrads and doctoral candidates.

“I am proud to join my colleagues in the United States and in Germany as one of the Editors for the Transatlantic Law Journal. I begin the task with excitement and enthusiasm and look forward to living up to the high standards that Dr. Stephan Wilske and James Boykin have set for the Journal. I hope you will enjoy reading the many interesting articles that will be published and welcome your feedback and contributions to the Journal.”

Ms. Jasari concentrates her practice in the areas white collar criminal defense, international criminal defense, international arbitration and FINRA arbitration. After obtaining her initial law degree in Germany and an LL.M. in French and European Union Law in France, Ms. Jasari came to the United States to complete an LL.M. in International Legal Studies. She has a strong interest in international law and competed in the Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court competition while in law school where she became the German National Champion and obtained an award for the 13th best combined pleadings worldwide.
